Army Prepares For Explorer Launching

Newsmen Get Close Look at Firing Pads

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An intimate look at the missile launching towers of this test center disclosed that:

1. Preparations for another Jupiter-C Explorer satellite launching are fairly well advanced. The Redstone first stage of the rocket is in its mobile launching stand, undergoing a careful check. The three high-speed stages — clusters of solid propellant rockets — have not yet been installed, nor has the satellite. The latter will be put in place the day of the launching.

2. The launching stand for the Vanguard currently is empty, but the Navy has two Vanguard three-stage rockets and their spherical satellites in a hangar near by. Altogether the Navy has seven more Vanguard vehicles in its satellite program.

Pronouncements by Army Secretary Brucker indicate that a Jupiter-C launching try may come within less than a week. Another Vanguard attempt is likely within a month.

The launching areas for all the missiles were opened for the first time this week to close-up inspection by newsmen.

The Air Force flew two plane-loads of writers and photographers — 75 in all — from Washington to acquaint them with missile and satellite programs of all the services.

Maj. Gen. Donald N. Yates, commander of the test center, told his guests that the cause of the failure of Explorer II to attain an orbit has been easily identified and easily corrected.

He declined to indicate the cause or the corrective measures.

Quick Accord Sought on Farm Price Prop Bill

House Okays Measure To Freeze Supports At Last Year's Levels

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders pushed today for fast Senate-House agreement to speed to President Eisenhower a one-year freeze of farm price supports and planting allowances.

The House passed the price freeze bill 210-172 in the face of a presidential veto threat and GOP cries of election year "politics."

Neither the House vote nor a 50-45 vote by which the Senate passed a similar bill last week equaled the two thirds necessary to override a veto.

Would Cancel Reductions

The bill would cancel impending reductions in price supports for 1948 at a saving to the farm economy claimed by Democrats to amount to more than half a billion dollars. There was no indication when the Senate would act on it.

The Senate, meantime, passed a bill to extend for two years beyond June 30 the government's authority to dispose of farm surplus commodities abroad in exchange for foreign currencies, or as gifts in case of disaster.

Passage came on a voice vote after the Senate rejected 44-39 an effort by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) to force Secretary of Agriculture Benson to use barter deals for at least half a billion dollars worth of surpluses each year. Permissive authority for barter remains.

Authorizes Surplus Disposal

The Senate bill authorizes disposal of an added 3½ billion dollars of farm commodities during the extension period. The administration had asked a one-year extension and authority for disposal of ½ billion dollars of commodities.

The disposal bill now goes to the House.

The measure freezing price supports and acreage allotments was limited by the House to one year. The Senate last week passed the bill without a shutdown date. A compromise of the differences will be necessary unless the Senate accepts the House version.

Mrs. Mary Shade, 32, Taken Into Custody

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Taken into custody as a material witness in the Youngstown insurance swindle investigation, Mrs. Mary Shade, 32, was brought to Mahoning County Jail Thursday night.

Her husband Paul still is being sought by police. They say he fled from a police net four weeks ago when John J. Tobin Jr., central figure in the case, was arrested in Houston, Tex.

Mrs. Shade was arrested by Youngstown officers near Lima, Ohio, where she has been living with relatives.

County Prosecutor Thomas A. Beil says Mrs. Shade has been in constant contact with her missing husband, although she maintains she does not know where he is.

The case involves about $250,000 worth of false claims for insurance. Tobin, an adjuster for an insurance company, has admitted embezzlement, Shade, a business associate, is among a dozen charged with aiding and abetting the swindle.

Ohio Clergymen Announce Position

Catholics Oppose 'Right-to-Work' Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An organization of Ohio's highest Roman Catholic clergymen has announced its opposition to a proposed constitutional amendment to ban the union shop in Ohio.

The Ohio Catholic Welfare Conference made its position known in a statement issued late Thursday night.

The conference's membership includes the state's six Catholic bishops and priests, and laymen who act as advisors. It deal with matter concerning the welfare of the citizens of the state.

Sponsors of the amendment to ban a union shop in Ohio hope to put it to a vote in the November election.

The Catholic organization said in its statement it feels "it is unwise to encourage state intervention in this matter."

A times, the statement said, laws, have been morally valid in themselves "but inept and mischievous in their results." The statement added:

"Right to work laws seem to fall into this category where a distinction is necessary. Man has a right and a duty to work for his livelihood. This right cannot be circumscribed to the extent that a man loses his liberty of choice of a vocation; nor to the extent that he is deprived of an opportunity to support himself and his family.

"I does not follow that a man has the unconditional right to work in any and every industry or business at will.

"For reasons of social justice it may be desirable and often advantageous to the common good that a man's right be restricted by certain specified conditions.

"One of these imposed conditions may require that he belong to a labor union or at least be obliged to join the union subsequently, so as to share a responsibility with his fellow workmen in support of the union.

"Just as a citizen of the United States is free to live in Ohio, Kentucky or Pennsylvania, yet is obliged to observe the laws of the particular state as a condition of citizenship, so also in respect to his right to work; he is free to work in any industry of his choice, but only on condition that he abides by the rules adopted by that particular industry as a condition of employment."

The bishops' names appearing at the end of the statement are: Most Rev. Karl J. Alter, archbishop, Cincinnati; Most Rev. Edward F. Hoban, archbishop of Cleveland; Most Rev. Emmet M.

Truck-trailers operated by Peter Lukachyk, 38, of Carnegie, Pa., and Harold R. Eddy, 31, of Monroeville, Ind., collided at the intersection of Rt. 7 and Rt. 14, three miles east of Columbiana, at 1:10 this morning.

800 Stranded On Turnpike Rescued; More Snow Falling

By The Associated Press
A brutal end-of-winter snowstorm, unleashed along the northeastern seaboard Thursday, raged on with mounting fury today — the official arrival of spring. It delivered a smashing blow at life, property and vital services.

The vast stretch of seaboard from Maryland to New England got a deluge of snow with depths of three feet in places. Power and telephone lines were wrecked.

Hundreds of thousands of homes and offices were left without electricity for long periods. Transportation was badly snarled, if not halted completely. Stores and schools were closed at many places. Office workers encountered extreme difficulties getting to their jobs.

In some areas the havoc was termed worse than hurricanes of recent years.

At least 21 deaths were attributed to the storm, which wheeled shoreward Wednesday night from the Carolina coast and swirled northward.

It was still snowing in many of the stricken areas today, but moderating weather was forecast in most sections by late tonight or Saturday.

In Maryland the wet, freezing snowfall snapped power lines feeding some 100,000 homes. Annapolis was without power for nine hours. A large frame house in Baltimore burned to the ground when firemen were unable to surmount the drifts.

Fallen Poles Close Roads

Highways were closed by fallen poles, and Pennsylvania Railroad service from Washington to New York was shut down for several hours. Nearly two feet of snow fell in the Baltimore area and about the same amount blanketed Frederick, Md. Six storm-caused deaths were reported in Maryland.

As spring officially came in at 10:06 p.m. some 300,000 persons in the area of Washington, D.C., were without electricity. Power firms said it may take another 24 hours before full service is restored.

In the nation's capital, the White House telephone system was partially knocked out for about an hour. Security police at the White House gates used walkie talkies. An evergreen tree was felled on the White House lawn. Air traffic at National Airport was cut 25 per cent. Some 10,000 homes had no telephone service.

Caused Power Failures

Slashing into Pennsylvania, where six weather-connected deaths were reported, the storm caused widespread power failures in the southeastern part of the state. The town of Oley, Pa., 14 miles southeast of Reading, reported 36 inches of snow. The Harrisburg area was struggling under a 30-inch fall.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike was closed for 111 miles from Harrisburg to the New Jersey state line. An estimated 800 persons were stranded at a small restaurant on the turnpike near Morgantown, Pa.

At Camden, N.J., a state of emergency was declared in Camden County. Civil defense officials ordered all public and parochial schools closed because of the danger from live electrical wires.

3 Institutions, Church Get Kernohan Bequest's

Requests totaling $38,000 to four Salem institutions are named in the will of the late Mrs. Robert Kernohan of 952 S. Lincoln Ave., who died March 13, according to provisions of the will which was filed for probate at the Columbiana county courthouse Thursday.

The largest bequest was $30,000 to Salem City Hospital, made in three separate $10,000 grants.

Others include $5,000 to the First Methodist Church, $2,000 to the Home for Aged Women and $1,000 to the Salem Public Library.

Mrs. Kernohan, who was the widow of R. B. Kernohan, a former Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. executive, and a sister of Frederic R. Pov, one-time president of the First National Bank, left a total estate estimated at $92,500.

This included $725,000 in personal property, $75,000 in real estate and $2,500 in rentals. In addition to the local institu-

MORGANTOWN, Pa. (AP)—State police broke through four feet of wet, solidly packed snow today to reach the more than 800 people marooned all night in a restaurant on the snowbound Pennsylvania Turnpike.

One lane was cleared and police reached the group of motorists, truckers, entertainers, babies and others stranded in the darkened, heatless restaurant.

Police said, however, it would be hours before the road could be widened to bring out the trapped people.

More than 800 of them had made their way to the Brandywine Restaurant since Wednesday night from cars, buses and trucks stranded on the turnpike by more than three feet of snow.

Ferried in by Helicopter

Some were ferried in by an Air Force helicopter, which also brought food and medical supplies for 10 persons reportedly suffering from shock and frostbite. One man, George L. Bliss, 61, Rocky River, Ohio, collapsed and died in the crowded restaurant.

Others, too frightened to leave their cars, were led in by truck drivers, who formed search parties.

The group was depressed but well organized as it waited for highway crews to clear an access road through "four feet of wet, solidly packed snow."

The turnpike was closed for 111 miles from Harrisburg to the New Jersey state line.

Don Freeman, 39, a sales manager from suburban Philadelphia, who estimated the number packed into the restaurant, described the situation in a telephone interview.

Describes Situation

"It's hot in here, we're depressed and very uncomfortable," he said, "but there's no panic. Freeman told how the group had organized itself under the direction of three doctors, had set up an infirmary, had sent out the search parties, and had passed the hat to pay for food supplied by the restaurant managers.

Among the stranded were a group of rock 'n' roll entertainers who had planned an evening's entertainment. But the restaurant was too crowded, Freeman said, and "we canceled it."

Ohio Bell Linemen On Emergency Errand

The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. this morning sent 52 two-man teams into the snow-bound areas around Harrisburg, Pa., to help telephone crews there restore telephone service which has been interrupted by lines broken by the heavy snow.

Eight trucks from Youngstown, 19 from Akron and 25 from Cleveland equipped with drop wire are making the emergency trip, all supervised by Adam Smith of Youngstown, formerly of Salem, district installation superintendent for Ohio Bell.

Influence Disappearing From Southern Scene

KKK Is No Longer Potent Force

By JIM LAXSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Two hooded, white-robed figures meet on a barren, windswept field on the outskirts of a Southern town.

"Ayak?" asks one.

"Akia," replied the other.

This Ku Klux Klan sign — "are you a Klansman?" and counter-sign, "A klansman I am" has been repeated countless times, usually amid burning crosses and burning oratory.

But the Klan as a potent or influential force is disappearing from the Southern scene.

It is, in fact, nonexistent in many areas where its night riding sorties once brought terror to the hearts of white persons and Negroes alike.

Some chapters, or klaverns, have died on the vine. Others have disbanded or have gone underground under pressure from the courts and public opinion. Anti-mask laws have forced klansmen into the open.

Activities On Wane

Except for isolated incidents of serious violence in a few areas, their activities are on the wane. Following the U. S. Supreme Court school desegregation decision in 1954, the Knights of the Invisible Empire enjoyed a brief surge, but now their political influence is practically nil.

In scattered areas, recently, the Klan has raised its hooded head.

Normally peaceful Lumbie Indians broke up a Klan rally in North Carolina with pistol and rifle shots — and a Klan leader was convicted for inciting a riot.

There have been a few beatings, numerous cross burnings — some attributed to pranksters by police — and a lot of oratory usually directed against the Negro or other minority groups.

The old theme emphasized patriotism. The modern emphasis is on segregation.

No Way To Estimate Membership
There is no way to estimate numbers in the hooded orders. Klansmen refuse to discuss membership details; they say they are sworn to secrecy.

Eldon L. Edwards is the imperial wizard of the U. S. Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan Inc., probably the largest of all the Klan outfits.

Edwards, 48-year-old spray painter at an Atlanta auto assembly plant, said the theme of his group is protection.

"Protection of the quality of the blood, of the flag, of the home, women and children of this county. And charity. We do more charity in some areas than the Red Cross but we never get credit for it."

The original KKK was spawned in the dark days of the Reconstruction — days of tumult and lawlessness following the Civil War. The Klan helped bring order out of chaos. Its methods were brutal and sometimes illegal but it attracted many influential political and business leaders.

After order was restored and home rule re-established, the Klan disbanded and left law enforcement to elected officials.

The Klan rose again after World War I but it was rocked by scandals and fell into disrepute. After World War II, Dr. Samuel Green, Atlanta obstetrician, revived the Klan but it hasn't held together as in its earlier days. Green passed the reins to Edwards.

There has been little or no recent Klan activity in Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Virginia, Texas, Missouri, Kentucky and Oklahoma, a survey by The Associated Press shows.

In Tennessee, there is little activity except in Chattanooga where a new group reportedly is being formed.

Accuracy of Jobless Figure Challenged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Ayres (R-Ohio) has challenged the accuracy of Census Bureau estimates which put the unemployment figure at more than five million.

Ayres said this figure is too high by "thousands and thousands."

Ayres told a meeting of a House Labor Subcommittee studying methods used for compiling such statistics that Census Bureau sampling methods are "about as accurate as the 1948 polls." They predicted Thomas Dewey would defeat Harry Truman for President.

"In thousands and thousands of cases," Ayres said Wednesday "people tell the census enumerators they are unemployed, or their husbands are unemployed, when they have been laid off but have taken another job."

"The other job is not as desirable as their regular job and these people are afraid that unless they tell this person from the government that they are unemployed they will not be called back to the regular job."

Robert W. Burgess, director of the Census Bureau, said the bureau realizes it obtains some misinformation and does everything possible to avert error in its conclusions.

State Supreme Court Bans Picture-Taking in Courtrooms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's highest court has ruled out picture taking in the courtroom.

The State Supreme Court warned Thursday that to take pictures during court sessions is to invite prosecution for contempt. A rule which backs up the warning applies to all courts of record in Ohio.

Courts of record keep a permanent record of their proceedings and have the power to fine or imprison for contempt of court.

Rule 29, adopted unanimously by the judges Thursday, is considered to be an implementation of Canon 35. Canon 35 of judicial ethics bans photographs and radio or television broadcasts of court proceedings.

Supreme Court aides said the new rule is mandatory, while Canon 35 refers only to ethics. The canon does not oppose picture-taking before or after sessions when the court is in recess.

The State Supreme Court's action followed the appearance of photographs in the Cleveland Press, said to have been taken during sessions in the Statehouse Annex courtroom without knowledge of judges or spectators.

The court's special announcement said:

"It has come to the attention of this court that a newspaper recently published a series of photographs surreptitiously taken during a session thereof.

"Canon 35, canons of judicial ethics, read as follows:

"Proceedings in court should be conducted with fitting dignity and decorum. The taking of photographs in the courtroom during such proceedings and the broadcasting or televising of such proceedings from the courtroom tend to detract from the essential dignity of the proceedings, distract the witness in giving his testimony, and create misconceptions with respect thereto in the mind of the public and should not be permitted."

"It was thought that this language is plain and unambiguous and that any reasonable layman would understand from a reading of the canon that it was intended to prohibit the taking of photographs by a layman. However, it seems that there may be some who do not so understand it, or who, understanding it, choose to disregard it.

"Therefore, in order to make the matter unmistakably clear, this court, effective immediately, as an implementation of Canon 35, is adopting and announcing the following rule of court, to be known as Rule 29:

"The photographing of a session of a court of this state or the broadcasting or televising of such session is prohibited, and any violation of this rule shall be considered a contempt of that court and punishable as such."

The state bar association urged the Supreme Court to initiate contempt proceedings after the picture-taking incident.

However in Cleveland, Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Cleveland Press, said Canon 35 is merely a "rule adopted by the bar association" and "is not changed by any statement made by the Supreme Court of Ohio."

Seltzer said: "Canon 35 must go. I think it conflicts with the public's right to know."

A test case involving Canon 35 was taken to the U. S. Supreme Court by the Cleveland Press, but the case was not admitted.

Corn Belt Survey Shows 6% Increase In Hog Production

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that farmers in 10 Midwestern corn belt states apparently are keeping hog production for the spring season in line with a modest 6 per cent increase forecast last December.

A special survey made as of March 1 indicated that 5,702,000 sows will be farrowed during the December-May season this year in the corn belt states which include Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa.

This number compared with 5,404,000 farrowed during the same period in 1957, a 6 per cent increase.

Because of unusually favorable hog prices in relation to feed prices in recent months, there has been concern among farm officials that production might be expanded sharply, perhaps enough to bring about a sharp downturn in prices later.

The indicated increases this spring over last spring by states included: Illinois, 6 per cent; Wisconsin, 8; Iowa, 4; and Indiana, 3.

Salem Needs Route 62

It is not surprising to learn that highway engineers have abandoned thoughts of using the Salem-Alliance road for the contemplated Route 62 relocation and improvement.

It will not be surprising, either, to learn one of these days that the State Highway Department has decided to shunt Route 62 far away from Salem.

Unless, of course, the Mayor's Highway Committee, City Council, Planning Commission and the Chamber of Commerce awaken now to the fact that "speed is of the essence" and make a more vocal stand on Salem's behalf.

Richard Pfundstein of the professional engineering firm of Goodking & O'Dea, Bloomfield, N. J., which is making the Route 62 survey for the Ohio Department of Highways, outlined two proposed relocation routes when he and members of the Alliance planning commission talked things over Tuesday night.

Two routes are contemplated for the continuation of Route 62 east from Route 44 near Canton, Pfundstein said. One would take Route 62 north of Alliance and east toward the Berlin Reservoir and Youngstown. A southerly route would skirt Alliance to the south and then proceed toward Salem before veering northward.

The consulting engineer agrees that the southern path is feasible. That route certainly would prove more beneficial to the community of Salem even though the new road is to be a limited access highway.

Ohio Highway Director Charles M. Noble is known to favor building highways so that developments can be built around them, rather than going through communities. Any relocation of Route 62 closer to Salem, limited access or not, would be to this city's advantage.

Route 62 is not going to come within an appreciable distance of Salem unless liaison between our city and the highway department improves.

The Power to Tax and Destroy

It is not too much to hope that members of Congress and the federal government who are wrestling with the theory of tax reduction to rout a recession may read the annual report of U. S. Steel Corp., which has been distributed widely.

Now is the time, while the minds of these people are receptive to the idea of using the power to tax to stimulate buying power, to give attention to using taxing power to stimulate job-making power.

That is, after all, what they are trying to do—make jobs.

If they would give as much consideration to doing it directly as they are giving to doing it indirectly—that is, in a way calculated to make votes—they could spark a momentous tax reform in the United States.

They might even arrive by logic at the conclusion that the most politically-popular thing they could do right now would be to stimulate job-making power directly.

Their logic would begin with this statement in the U. S. Steel report:

"It should ever be remembered that a new self-sustaining productive job—of which we will need millions in years to come—can come into existence only when money is risked to purchase tools of production, thus creating the environment in which a man may produce the marketable values to cover his continuing wage and the investor's compensation."

Logic then would open their minds to a basic understanding of the effect of existing tax laws that penalize efficient production by taxing it at the highest rates; that penalize the possessors of potential investment capital by punishing them for possessing it; that penalize industrialism by draining away from it the means of replacing its tools.

The end of their logical approach would be the realization that the United States either must discover how to generate employment within its own means, or confess that it has become the helpless victim of war booms and the slumps that follow boomtime inflation.

This course of logic would be odious to the creeping socializers who have been using the taxing power of the United States to make the country dependent on government. They would scream that they and their followers were being betrayed.

They would be right.

That is the issue on which tax reform would be hammered out if it could be discussed on its merits, instead of in an atmosphere of ideological hysteria. The creeping social-ers would like to maintain that atmosphere. They thrive in it. Why shouldn't they be betrayed?

They want to make it appear that jobs can be made only by politicians pulling strings and manipulating the economy. They do not want it to be discovered, though the evidence is plain to see, that jobs can be made in this country only by capital investment that makes it possible to produce the wealth which gives the politicians the money they spend.

U. S. Steel, which expects to pay more than 400 million dollars in taxes this year, has earned the right to be heard as sympathetically in Washington as the creeping socializers who speak with the loudest voices.

Urban Spread

In two more years, the Bureau of the Census will compile the statistics that will show the continued growth of "urban spread" in the United States. This is the name being used by students of urban growth like Luther Bulick, head of the Institute of Public Administration and the Governmental Affairs Institute.

It refers to the explosion of population that has stranded traditional cities in the midst of vast urbanized areas, areas serviced by the automobile—the cities of tomorrow that have materialized before plans were prepared to handle their problems. They are here to stay. They will continue to grow, but men like Gulick are still not sure their inhabitants will know how to turn them to good advantage.

They can be opportunities for a better life than Americans ever have known before, or they can be breeding grounds for troubles greater than ever beset mankind before. They can produce benefit or bane; their inhabitants will have to choose.

Their inhabitants? That is part of the trouble. The modern city—the urban spread—still has not been defined in law. Its inhabitants live in it and with it, but they have no say in its government, except in piecemeal ways. Its problems never are seen whole, nor are the problems of its inhabitants. To adapt a famous phrase to another purpose, "never have so many been governed so negligently by so few."

If every one really practiced what he preached an awful lot more tasks would get done.

The Study of Space Is Accelerated

Handout Alternatives

By RAYMOND MOLEY

The ideal solution for the problem of mounting federal handouts to states is to return all the tax sources now seized by the federal government from the states, such as gas and telephone excises but the difficulties in the way of that solution are almost insurmountable.

Since the ultimate objective is to preserve a measurable freedom to states and local units in deciding what they want, unrestricted by bureaucratic control from Washington, other alternatives are being considered by friends of economy and local independence.

The march of federalism goes on, apparently, under all administrations. Under President Eisenhower these handouts have more than doubled since 1953, despite his oratorical efforts and the work of two commissions on the subject. Federal grants to states in 1956 were 25 times what they were in 1934. When the hysterical spending by Congress ends this year, a new high record will be reached.

The task of reversing this trend is prodigious. For great pressure groups are massed in Washington, with a vast federal bureaucracy, greedy for power and money, co-operating with them.

FOR EXAMPLE, the AFL-CIO's "Labor's Economic Review" is issued not long ago an imposing "study," under a masthead embellished by a list of professional economists, which contended for three apparently irreconcilable points. First, it "proved" that federal grants-in-aid do not amount to much; second, that they are wonderful for the people in the states and third, that they induce and enable states to expand their social services.

The statistical magic by which the economists "proved" these points was more wonderful than their appraisal of the grants themselves.

The hard fact is that the AFL-CIO, the National Education Association and other groups find it easier to put pressure on Congress and the federal administration than to scatter their efforts among the states.

The regrettable fact is that mayors of cities and even governors of states, flock to Washington to barter their freedom of action for federal handouts.

ANOTHER DIFFICULTY is that when tax sources of the kind mentioned above are removed, the federal government faces a net loss, because the rich states pay in more than they get in return while the poor ones get more than they contribute. In balance, the federal treasury nets a great deal in the process.

Now, with a hard-pressed financial situation facing the federal budget, such a loss would be viewed with alarm by Washington.

Since this probably means that Congress will not in these immediate years give up any possible source of income, it has been suggested that an alternative be tried which would leave federal income where it is and state receipts from the federal government unchanged.

This idea was advanced by the first Hoover Commission. It would leave the over-all amount now given to the states where it is but would make the grants without strings.

THE STATES would get the money and spend it for what they choose, without dictation from Washington as to specific purposes and services.

If, for example, they decided to spend federal money for schools rather than highways, they could do so in any one year.

This plan would remove the great danger, involved in the present system, of destroying the freedom of the states and at the same time it would provide them with the financial help they might need. It would also check the rise in state expenditures, because so many of the present plans involve matching funds.

In addition, it would avoid the building up of more bureaucratic machinery in Washington which is now deemed essential to the supervision of the states.

This is not the best solution, to be sure, but it would be improvement and it would be less costly.

Court Makes Illegal Businesses More Profitable

Most people probably will be shocked to learn that the Supreme Court of the United States has just ruled that it's all right for the federal Internal Revenue Service to grant an income tax deduction on expenses incurred by persons who are engaged in operating businesses that violate state laws. Thus, David Lawrence the State of Illinois has a law forbidding the operation of gambling enterprises but the Supreme Court of the United States says the persons engaged in it had a right to deduct rent and the wages of their employees before paying federal taxes on profits.

The U. S. Tax Court had found that these enterprises were illegal under Illinois law, that the acts performed by the employees constituted violations of that law, that the payment of rent for the use of the premises was also illegal under that law and that hence the amounts paid for wages and rents should not be allowed as a deduction for federal income tax purposes.

The Supreme Court, however, reversing this view, said the expenses were "ordinary and necessary" and hence deductible. The court pointed to a regulation of the U. S. Internal Revenue code which permits the deduction of federal excise taxes levied on persons "engaged in the business of accepting wagers or conducting wagering pools or lotteries."

HOW THE Supreme Court could tolerate such a regulation, which makes it more profitable for persons violating state laws to conduct their businesses, is a mystery that is not explained by a reading of the text of the latest decision. In fact, on Monday of this week the Supreme Court handed down two other decisions that refused to allow deductions for income tax purposes on the thousands of dollars paid by trucking companies in state fines incurred in violation of state laws. These laws penalize truck drivers for excess weights of loads in their trucks.

The court said in its opinion that, even if the truck drivers and their companies "acted with all due care and without willful intent, it is clear that allowance of the deduction sought by the petitioner would severely and directly frustrate state policy."

Yet, in the third decision, involving deductions of expenses by gambling establishments, the Supreme Court closed its eyes to the possible "frustration" of state policy by making it easier for the gambling enterprises to make money. Certainly if their expenses were not held deductible, the added burden would operate as a penalty against their continuance of enterprises outlawed by the legislature of the State of Illinois.

The Supreme Court took refuge in the fact that the U. S. Internal Revenue regulations permit the taking of such deductions. But this does not explain why the court, which can at any moment invalidate a federal statute, could not declare invalid the regulation of a governmental bureau insofar as it operates to frustrate those policies and criminal statutes of a sovereign state designed to maintain law and order.

It now would appear that, if the Bureau of Internal Revenue chooses to allow the owner of a disorderly house to take deductions for wages paid the inmates and for rent and other items of expense, the Supreme Court, to be consistent, would have to rule that these deductions from income taxes are just as permissible as deductions for the expenses of a gambling enterprise.

WHERE DOES morality begin and end in the laying down of "the supreme law of the land"? Most citizens have been told by defenders of the Supreme Court in recent months that, even though the court decision on desegregation, for example, wasn't exactly in accord with legal precedent, it would have been a violation of "the moral law" to have ruled otherwise.

As a result of the latest decision in the gambling case, the citizen who obeys moral law and the laws of his state is placed under a handicap. He has to pay more federal income taxes than otherwise would be the case because other citizens are allowed deductions for immoral and illegal activities.

Nothing evidently can be done except by Congress to protect the states against federal action which increases the profits obtained by owners of certain illicit enterprises. For the present paradox is sanctioned by the Supreme Court of the United States and now becomes "the law of the land."

Big Thing to Remember

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — It's getting harder today to tell the front page of your newspaper from the business-financial page. Look at the headlines of both pages this week:

On the front page among stories on the love life of entertainment stars, the outer space life of Van-guarders, Explorers and Spuniks, the international jockeying for rail position in the summit meeting—all usually with overtones of money, industrial production or world trade—are such out and out fiscal and economic headlines as these:

Bank reserves cut to free three billion dollars of credit; industrial output in sharp drop; tax cut plans debated; two billion dollars proposed for public works; plan federal loans to states for jobless benefits; big inflationary federal deficit feared; American oil companies caught in middle in Indonesian civil war; exports decline; farm price props by treasury debated.

Then look at these stories' stablemates on the financial page:

U. S. crop acreage to drop further; Big Steel calls federal taxes confiscatory; stock market reacts to Washington reports; mail order house cuts prices to bolster sales; new security offerings flock to market; profits rise for an oil firm, drop for a metal company; appliance manufacturer sees sales comeback in making.

All echo the same problems that are aired on the front page.

What does this add up to? Probably to the fact that, like it or not, business news is front page again. Economic news is closer than ever today to your pocketbook, the worker's job, to the merchant's chance

New U. S. director of budget is Maurice H. Stans, whose hobby is African big game hunting. The job needs a man accustomed to life in a jungle and at home on a safari through wild situations.

Mr. Stans may win over lions and tigers but in budget explorations the maneating rattle-dazzle, doubled-toothed quandary and two-way jumping muddle are almost invincible.

The new budget chief, even with additional native guides, provisions and computing-machine bearers will know he has been in a fight for survival.

THE BUDGET JUNGLE is full of hazards, including the crocodile-like dough-swallower and enormous reptile which coils itself around old-fashioned solutions and chokes them to death. Overhead fly huge fact-devouring birds known as the "baffle," the "snarlurper," the "gumup" and the huge screaming "go-for-buzzard."

Hunting is difficult because of thick jungle growth developed and encouraged over the past quarter century. A hunter faces frightful tangle of underbrush raised under a policy of increasing the tangle while declaring it doesn't exist.

MR. STANS has made two safaris to Africa. He faced tough going. But it was nothing compared to trek through the American budgetary wilderness. As a family man, Clague does not like it any more than anyone else.

He is a stocky, energetic, graying, 61-year-old government career employee, serious most of the time but capable of a hearty laugh.

As commissioner of labor statistics for more than a decade, he's a key government economist. His 1,000-man staff churns out an amazing lot of information.

Clague, for example, can tell you how many houses were built last month and how many are likely this year, how many gadgets the average worker in a given industry is producing, his hours and wages; what the prices of 3,000 commodities were last week, last year or 20 years ago; how many workers, men and women, the nation will have in 1975.

But Clague's living cost figures hit the average citizen hardest. When interviewed, he was reading a housewife's letter demanding to know why, in this recession, she had to pay nearly a nickel apiece for carrots.

"It's a natural question," he conceded. "My staff prepared a reply. But it won't do. I'm rewriting it."

"Well, what is the answer?" Clague was asked.

"It isn't simple," he replied. "But generally speaking prices of most items making up the family budget don't change radically from month to month."

"Demand for food is always fairly steady. But the supply changes. Right now the supply is short because of the Florida crop freezes."

"Take things like haircuts, rents, streetcar fares, medical fees, gas and electric rates — these prices change but not too often and not too much. They don't respond immediately to general economic trends."

Clague was born Dec. 27, 1896, on a farm outside Prescott, Wash. He says he was never too good at mathematics, and recalls one particularly unpleasant year's struggle with trigonometry.

But he liked research and statistics and kept at it. In 1933 he was one of a group of outsiders named to study Labor Department statistical services. In 1946 he became head of the bureau.

Breithart said he felt sorry for the plumbers, contractors, supply houses and others against whom the boycott has been aimed when they handled Kohler products. But he said he also felt sorry for the striking Kohler workers — himself among them — and philosophized: "People are hurt who have no business getting hurt." It all, he said, "is the result of a situation . . . deplorable . . . that seems unresolvable."

The company and the UAW handed the committee separate statements outlining points still at issue in the strike which will be four years old April 5. The statements showed them far apart.

The company now denies that the UAW could muster a majority of its workers to declare the union their collective bargaining agent if another plant election is held, and said, "The company can not lawfully deal with a minority union." The UAW won recognition and a contract in 1953.

The union listed five contract issues still in dispute — arbitration of grievances, seniority, lunch period in the enamel shop, pensions and reinstatement of strikers including some formally discharged.

Beef Prices Still Climbing But Peak Is Believed Near

CHICAGO (AP)—Beef prices still are climbing but livestock men believe they are very near the peak.

Prices of slaughter steers at the Chicago Stockyards have advanced as much as $1 a hundredweight on each of the last two days because of light receipts. The scarce prime grade of slaughter steers sold for $39 a hundredweight in Chicago Wednesday, highest in six years.

The sharpest upturn has been in the top grades, classified as prime and high choice, seldom found at retail in supermarkets. These grades usually reach the consumer through the best hotels and restaurants. They constitute about 3 per cent of slaughter steers now offered to packers.

Good and choice grades, most often found in supermarkets, are more plentiful, about 90 per cent of the supply. These grades are expected to become more abundant soon.

The prime or high choice steak you eat in a good hotel or restaurant is the best that livestock men know how to produce. They had that steer on grain feeding—mostly corn—for as long as 8 months or perhaps 11 months.

The steak from a choice grade steer is produced in only four to seven months of grain feeding and often it is not as much of the high quality grain which goes to the high choice or prime steer, and the good grade of steer usually has been on grain fed only two or three months. Prior to the heavy grain feeding the choice and good grades may have been mainly on a hay or grass feed.

There are some seasons when high choice and prime grades are sold in retail stores at bargain prices.

These cuts, however, will not be in retail markets before summer since prime beef will continue scarce until late spring.

O'Neill Blocking Slash in Mental Hygiene Budget

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill has blocked a proposed six million dollar cut in the State Division of Mental Hygiene's budget.

The governor announced, following a conference with John A. Skipton, state finance director, and Dr. Robert Haines, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, that he has overruled the proposal by the Finance Department.

The proposal was made last week while O'Neill was vacationing in Florida.

"The administration's economy program will not be permitted to affect the mentally ill who are unable to care for themselves," O'Neill stated.

The governor also labeled as "inaccurate and out-dated" reports published recently implying lack of progress in the Division of Mental Hygiene.

He said that last year 18 million dollars worth of modern fire-proof hospitals were put under construction. Additional building projects, estimated at more than four million dollars, have or will be advertised for bids in the first quarter of this year, he added.

O'Neill said 397 additional professional personnel also has been added to the staff of the Mental Hygiene Division.

The total number of employees in the division as of Feb. 1, 1958, was 13,177 as compared with 12,588 on Jan. 1, 1957.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

CLEVELAND — Some people are still eating cake. For them, an auto company here is building a car called the Argonaut — some models of which will cost $20,000 to roll home. The Argonaut Corp., which builds its chassis here and assembles the regal coaches in Italy, apparently isn't worried about customers or the backlog of one million unsold cars of the insolent auto companies over in Detroit.

If the sleepless Detroit executives need someone to talk to these nights, they can telephone an equally disturbed Walter Reuther who has the problem of slowly applying power brakes to the big strike machinery he and his colleagues threw into high gear a couple of months back.

In these hours before the Auto Workers' Union bargaining team walks in next Tuesday morning to begin negotiations with General Motors — the naked fact is that Reuther and his aides do not want a strike at this time.

Throwing hundreds of thousands of auto workers on the picket lines this summer would cut them off from virtually everything but bread and butter, and soup kitchen relief. If, instead, the men are laid off by the companies—as many will be—they would be eligible to take home state relief and a special additional sum from the company itself under the partial guaranteed annual wage, known as supplemental unemployment benefits, a gimmick the car companies agreed to in their last contract.

FURTHERMORE the companies are in a perfect position to sit out a strike until the end of the summer when they have to get into production of their new models. Much of the country's hope for some economic recovery depends on the sales of these new models next winter.

In the meantime, the auto in-dusty could sell the million new piled-up autos and make a profit without running up any expenses if their plants were shut down by pickets.

What's more, Reuther is as sensitive to the public denunciations which follow poor public relations as a mother is to the sinner of a newly born infant.

Reuther knows that any delay of the production of new models could have the public blaming him personally for striking against "prosperity" itself.

So his first strategy is expected to be a bid for a four-month extension of the Big Three auto contracts covering GM, Ford and Chrysler.

By late summer the nation will know if we're on the way back to two chickens in every pot and, more important to this industry, another car in every garage. If the country's economy is picking up, Reuther's union will, of course, be in a stronger bargaining position.

For an awareness of all this, the auto companies don't need smoke signals from Solidarity House, Reuther's national headquarters. The industry knows it has the Auto Union, with almost 400,000 members jobless, at its weakest since the boys sat down and in during the '37 strikes.

LAST WEEK, one of President Eisenhower's top aides was in Detroit for a series of talks. He came away with the impression that the companies will ask for a one-year extension of the present contract. This would mean no raise and get a big "NO" from Reuther.

The companies then are expected to counter with the offer of a two-year contract, to avert the negotiations with three dollars a week package increase.

Nobody can say for sure what Reuther and his bargainers will settle for but it won't be $3 a week. The companies know this and, according to the unobtrusive federal visitor, the industry will go up to a $6 a week package if necessary. This will be about 15 cents an hour per man more in wage and fringe benefits costs.

The Auto Union people, who haven't given much recent thought to the profit sharing proposals, have been thinking of a $10 a week package or about 25 cents an hour.

They are reportedly willing to come down to $8 weekly or 20 cents an hour more per worker. This —Too many young people are going to college who simply are not prepared to do college work." So says Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, above, president of Maryland University, at College Park, Md. He says parents, schools and "our whole American society" must share the blame for the situation.

NOT READY FOR COLLEGE

means — according to White House observers who would be called in to help settle the conflict — that the field of battle now narrows down to that nickel difference. In any event, there will be a good sized wage increase — by 1958 measurements.

In the industrial areas through which I've been driving, the boys will give you odds that it will be won without a strike this year.

Daniels Dominates '58 Little Basketball All-America

Whiz Lead Team To NCAA Title

Penguins' Lake Gets Honorable Mention

NEW YORK (AP)—Jimmie Daniels, a ball-awking 5-11 whiz from Brooklyn who led South Dakota to the NCAA small college championship, dominates the 1958 little basketball All-America announced today by The Associated Press.

Joining the diminutive senior on the first team are 6-3 Dick Barnett, whose sensational set shooting sparked Tennessee State to its second straight NAIA championship; 6-6 Jim Smith of Steubenville (Ohio); 6-4 Mel Peterson of Wheaton (Ill.) and 6-9 Bennie Swain of Texas Southern.

They were chosen from recommendations of sportswriters and broadcasters. Similar to the big All-America, four are Negroes—Daniels, Barnett, Smith and Swain.

Daniels led South Dakota to a 64-60 upset over defending champion Wheaton in the semifinals of the NCAA small college tournament.

Barnett, a junior, was sensational on 20-foot set shots as he sparked Tennessee State to an 85-73 victory over top seeded and previously unbeaten Western Illinois for the NAIA title. He was voted the most valuable player in the tournament.

Peterson, a soph, was Wheaton's star all season as the crusaders lost only three of 30 games and a 22-game streak that was snapped by South Dakota. Swain, a senior, led Texas Southern to a third place finish in the NAIA.

Players from New England schools dominated the second team composed of Rudy Finderson of Brandeis, Dick Krosch of American International Nick Nicodemus of St. Michaels (Vt.), Ed Kazakovich of Scranton and Vern Baggenstoss of St. Cloud (Minn.) Teachers.

Bob Hamblin, who led Little Chapman (Calif.) to an upset victory over Fresno State in the NCAA tourney; Bill McAfoos, of Western Illinois; Charles Grote, of Georgetown (Ky.); Jim Bond of Pasadena and Al Pursell of Coe make up the 1958 third team.

Logart to Pit Skill Against Akins' Power

NEW YORK (AP)—Cuba's sleek Isaac Logart pits his speed and boxing skill against the punching power of veteran Virgil Akins in a 12-round bout tonight that will earn the winner a shot at the welterweight championship within 90 days.

Logart is a 7-5 favorite to win the third and "rubber" clash of the 147-pounders at Madison Square Garden.

For this semifinal of the elimination tournament each will receive a $20,000 guarantee plus the right to face Vince Martinez for the vacant title.

The championship has been open since Carmen Basilio had to yield it when he ascended to the middleweight throne by whipping Sugar Ray Robinson last Sept. 23.

Basilio, busy preparing for his defense against Robinson next Tuesday in Chicago, leans towards Logart.

"Logart has youth and speed going for him," said Basilio.

But the 30-year-old St. Louis veteran is supremely confident he will nail his 24-year-old rival from Camaguey, Cuba.

They met twice in 1955. Akins won the first by split decision while Logart beat his sluggish rival easily the second time.

NBC will broadcast and telecast at 10 p.m., EST.

Fight Results

By The Associated Press
Los Angeles—Paul Jorgensen, 130, Houston, Tex., outpointed Ernesto Parra, 130, Mexico City, 10.
Boise, Idaho—Dale Manz, 155½, New Plymouth, Idaho, knocked out Dick Lane, 158½, Boise, 10.
Paris, France—Ted Wright, Detroit, stopped Henry Cabelluc, France, 6. (Welterweights).

Quakers Set Scoring Mark

Pauline Paced Squad In Most Departments

Scoring figures released today by Salem High basketball coach John Cabas show that Bill Pauline hauled down honors in more departments than any other player during the past cage season.

Pauline, who was given honorable mention on the Associated Press All-Ohio squad, scored the most points besides leading in field goals attempted and made and free throws attempted and made.

However, Clyde Marks won the field goal percentage title by hitting on 44 of 88 shots for 50 percent. Butch Platt was the most accurate in foul shots, making 58 of 76 for a 77.5 percentage.

Pauline was the only player to score over 300 points, although three Quakers finished with averages in the double figures. They were Pauline, Platt and Jim Meissner. Lou Slaby just missed with a 4.2 average.

The team set an all-time mark for the most points in one season with 1,459, breaking the 1955-56 record of 1,355. The squad's average points per game of 69.5 was well below the record also set in 1955-56 of 75.3. The 1955-56 team however played only 18 contests.

Records which were not approached were Jack Alexander's career total of 1,050 and Rich Hunter's one-year figure of 401. Pauline ended his career with 532 markers.

Bob Pager holds the one game high of 37.

Middletown Favored to Win State Title

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The most fantastic state championship tournament in Ohio's high school basketball history gets under way today at Ohio State's St. John Arena.

Four teams with identical 24-0 records go after the Class AA title, and three unbeaten quintets and one with a 22-2 mark battle for the Class A laurels.

Middletown, winner the last two seasons and riding a 76-game winning streak, is favored in the big school division in which 387 teams started the campaign. The smaller school contingent, in which the four finalists are survivors of 646 starters, is wide open.

Jerry Lucas, 6-10 senior who holds all the state tournament scoring records, is the reason the marvelous Middies are favored to take Columbus North in tonight's fray and then triumph over the survivor of the Cleveland East Tech-Zanesville scrap.

In this afternoon's games Pleasantville (22-3) faced Bucyrus Holmes-Liberty (24-0), and Northwestern of Wayne County tangled with Dixie of Montgomery County, each sporting a 27-0 record. The winners meet at 2 p.m. Saturday for the title won a year ago by Ayersville of Defiance.

In addition to Lucas, the Middies have a defensive setup which has stopped everyone over the last three years. Coach Paul Walker, who appears ready to move into the collegiate field after the weekend scraps, says his defense is a "stratified, transitional man-to-man defense with a zone principle."

Opposing coaches find the definition as difficult to understand as to penetrate. In the 76-game winning streak the Middies have triumphed by an 84.6 to 57.2 average margin.

Walker is going after his sixth championship in 12 years, and Middletown after its eighth in 15. If the Middies make it, they'll become the first team since Dayton Sivers in 1928-29 to triumph three straight years.

Herb Score Shuts Out Giants For 3 Innings

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—"I'm just going along like it never happened," says Cleveland southpaw Herb Score of the accident that nearly ended his baseball career last May 7.

He worked three shutout innings against the San Francisco Giants Thursday and pronounced himself in good shape except for an ankle injury that still bothers him.

Hit in the right eye by a line drive, Score didn't pitch again in 1957 and when he came to this camp the question was whether he could come back.

To all intents and purposes he has done it, although two weeks ago he turned his ankle while working out in a gym.

"My eye is just fine and I don't notice any difference in my pitching," he says. "I haven't had any difficulty."

The question came up whether he might be a little gun shy of batted balls. "I don't think so, but that's something we'll have to prove," he said.

Black Hawks Tally 5-4 Win Over Red Wings

The New York Rangers can send a "thank you" note to the Chicago Black Hawks today for helping them nail down second place in National Hockey League.

Chicago's 5-4 victory over the third-place Detroit Red Wings Thursday night ended the Wings' hopes of catching the runnerup Rangers. It also left fourth-place Boston with an outside chance of overtaking Detroit.

Boston, which was idle, can move past Detroit by winning both of its remaining games while the Wings lose both of theirs.

In Thursday night's other game, the champion Montreal Canadiens whipped the Toronto Maple Leafs 7-4 and set a league record for total goals in one season. The Canadiens have 243 and the old mark was 236 by Detroit in 1950-1951.

Phils Desperate For 1st Baseman

Collins Announces Decision to Retire

By The Associated Press
The first baseman problem with the Philadelphia Phillies remained desperate today when Joe Collins of the New York Yankees retired from baseball after being sold to the Quaker City club for the $20,000 waiver price.

"If I can't be a Yankee, I'm through with baseball," Collins, 35, said at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Philadelphia had sought a first sacker after Ed Bouchee, an outstanding 1957 rookie, became involved with the law. Bouchee is now taking psychiatric treatment.

Harry Anderson was given a crack at the job by Mayo Smith, Phils' manager, but now is in the outfield. Thursday when the ankes trounced the Phillies in an exhibition game 11-8 Frank Herrera, a Cuban with triple A experience, played first.

Collins, of Union, N.J., has been in the Yankee organization since 1939. He played over 100 games each season until 1957, when in 79 contests he batted only .201, his poorest year. Bill Skowron is the regular Yankee first baseman, and Marv Throneberry is the No. 2 man.

The two most valuable players of 1957, Mickey Mantle of New York and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee, both had two homers to lead their teams to victory.

Mantle's blasts and a double drove in six runs as the Yankees won their sixth straight.

Aaron also batted in four runs as the Braves belted the Cincinnati Redlegs 11-1 at Bradenton, Fla. Right-hander Bob Buhl won his first spring game for the world champions.

Dayton, Xavier Set to Battle For NIT Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Impressive victories by top-seeded Dayton and unranked Xavier have set up an all-Ohio championship game in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

But Dayton Coach Tom Blackburn is not very happy about the pairing.

The Flyers rode over St. John's of New York 80-56 and Xavier knocked off third-seeded St. Bonaventure 72-53 in Thursday night's semi-finals in Madison Square Garden.

The finals will be played Saturday and will be preceded by a consolation game for third place between the Bonnies and St. John's.

Dayton advanced to the finals four times in its six previous NIT appearances and has yet to take home the championship. The Flyers were runners-up in 1951, 1952, 1955 and 1956.

Sports Sketches

By GORDON ARNDT

The Salem Quakers lost only one game in 21 starts last season; nevertheless they faced several capable cagers who carried their team's cause to the very end before losing out to the Red and Black.

Since the locals do not follow the tradition of naming an all-opponent team at season's end, yours truly will attempt to name 10 players who caused John Cabas' quintet the most trouble.

On the first five would be Bob Douglas and Jack Milliken of Youngstown South, Ron Lane of Youngstown East, Jim Diffendorfer of Ashland and Dan Baldwin of Wellsville.

Walker, Broski Will Coach All-Star Teams

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Paul Walker of Middletown's defending state champions, and John Broski of Cleveland East Tech's challengers, will coach the South and North All-Stars, respectively, in the first annual intra-state high school basketball game June 20 at Troy.

The selections were made Thursday night as district delegates of the Ohio High School Baseball Coaches Assn. met here.

Personnel of the two 10-man all-star squads also was selected by the mentors on a statewide vote, but announcement was delayed until after the state tournament.

Walker will coach the eAll-Ohio quintet which faces Kentucky's standouts June 14 at Middletown. The Middletown mentor, in 11 years at the Middle helm, has piled up five state championships and a 243-39 won-lost record. Undoubtedly Jerry Lucas, his three-time All-Ohio choice, will be one of the players on his rebel quintet in the North-South fracas.

Broski will be assisted by Dan Baker, coach of Northwestern team of Wayne County, which has won 27 straight victories this season and meets Dixie (27-0) of Montgomery County in today's class A semi-finals in the state meet.

Broski, in his fourth year at Cleveland East Tech, has reached the state finals twice—this year with a 24-0 record. His overall record is 93-12.

Walker's assistant will be J. Franklin Miller of Pleasantville, also a state finalist with a 22-3 record. Pleasantville goes against Bucyrus Holmes-Liberty (24-0) in today's state playoffs.

The coaches will announce later the 10 northern and 10 southern Ohio players comprising the squads for the contest.

The second quintet consists of Mel Watkins of South, Bill Davidson of Columbiana, Bob Gibson of East Palestine and George Hale and Bill Smith of East Liverpool.

ASSUMING Cleveland East Tech and Middletown defeat Zanesville and Columbus North, respectively, in the semi-finals of the Class AA championship tournament at Columbus tonight, they both will carry 25-0 records into the title game Saturday evening at 8 p.m.

The Middies would not only be 25-0 on the season but 77-0 over the past three years.

The Middies are paced by three-time All-Ohio choice Jerry Lucas. The 6-9½ center has averaged over 31 points a game in the 76 game victory string to date.

The Middies second big scorer is 6-2½ Tom Sizemore who was named to the AP second team all-state. He is averaging about 17 a game this season.

Middletown's other three starters are all below a 9.0 average. They are 6-7½ Larry Emerick, 6-4½ Ben Roberts and 6-foot Charlie Fuller.

EAST TECH's leading point producer is another all-state cager, 6-2 Jim Stone. His average to date is 21.6.

Backing him up is Ken Glenn, a 6-5 forward who has poured them in at 16.5 clip this season.

Going down the line we find the Scarabs' lineup includes LaMoine Porter, a 6-3 forward with a 12.0 average, Ed Ferguson, a 6-6 center with a 16.6 average and Capt. Gerald Warfield at 5-10 with a 9.0 average.

It's obvious then that East Tech has a more balanced scoring attack than Middletown. Both squads as a whole are averaging over 82 points a game.

Middletown has never won three state titles in succession. It won in 1946 and 1947 and in 1952 and 1953, but in 1954 and 1948 failed to even reach the regionals.

BOTH SQUADS will be filled with incentive, not only from the standpoint of winning but also because of prestige. Lucas would like nothing better than to conclude his scholastic career with never having played in a losing game, while the Clevelanders will be seeking to bring home that city's first high school title in history.

In East Tech, the Middies will be pacing a squad which has come closer this season to matching them in height than any other team.

The Scarabs also have the "horses" to match Middletown's speed and fast breaking tactics.

The game shapes up as a battle royal between two evenly balanced and well-coached quintets. As far as picking a winner, the choice here goes to East Tech, because of its more balanced scoring and great potential, to collar Lucas.

Third Annual Kite Day Set March 29 In Centennial Park

Smith; George Perrault, president of the Salem Manufacturers Association; George Rogers, Salem News Business Manager; Warren Hessler, president of the Reilly School PTA; Al Catlos, vice president of the Salem Park Commission; and Glenn Beck of Select Dairies.

Beacher seats will be available to the public.

Bayer Leads St. Petersburg Golf Tourney

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Vim and vigor have returned to the big frame of George Bayer and the San Gabriel, Calif., professional hopes the $15,000 St. Petersburg Open will end his winter-long golfing slump.

Bayer went into today's round two strokes ahead of the field, thanks to an opening three-under-par 68—his best round in two months.

The current Canadian Open titleholder, he has won less than $1,000 off the winter tour. His best finish was a tie for 19th in the Tijuana Open.

Only six players in the field of 147 first round finishers managed to crack par over the soggy, wind swept Pasadena Golf Club course. It measures 6,256 yards and has a par of 36-35-71.

Bayer's fellow parbusters all had 70s. They were Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla.; Kay Brewer Jr., Cincinnati; Arnold Palmer Latrobe, Pa.; Bert Weaver, Beaumont, Tex., and Jack Lumpkin, Athens, Ga.

Siamese Cat

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—There is a fur-bearing stranger in our house. He is large and fat and insolent. In color he ranges from a faded midnight to a misty mountain twilight. He has eyes of sapphire, and they are slightly crossed.

This stranger is a Siamese cat. Or so he claims. And he bears the unlikely name of Ralph Beauty Marble Candy.

During the day, Ralph is a sleeping volcano. He permits my wife, Frances, to go about her usual chores. He allows our daughter, Tracy, 5, to lug him around the house, as over his face there settles a look of dignified resignation that clearly says, "This, too, shall pass."

But at night Ralph, worn out by daylight dozing, is like a prowling phonograph on which the record has become stuck.

Most cats say "meow." Not our one-note Ralph. Over and over he groans "Ow!"

At first we thought he had worms, a bone stuck in his throat, or a splinter in his paw. Nope. A check showed Ralph was not ill. His health was perfect.

"He just has loneliness insomnia," finally said Frances. "Someone in this house just has to stay up and keep him company at night until he get accustomed to the place."

How do you set about curing a cat of insomnia?

The best answer, I found, was a combination of food and James Joyce. If you have a cat with insomnia, here is your best cure: Put a can of dog food and a copy of Joyce's "Finnegans Wake" on your bedside table before you retire. If the cat begins to howl, feed it two heaping table-spoonfuls of dog food—and take a small one yourself, if you feel hungry. Then open "Finnegans Wake" at random and read three pages.

Five minutes later, I guarantee, both you and the cat will be sound asleep, purring happily.

Metal Tube Explodes, Killing 2 Men In Texas

WEST COLUMBIA, Tex. (AP)—A mysterious metal tube exploded in a downtown garage Thursday and killed two men. Another was injured.

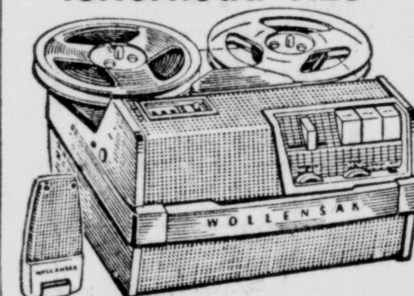

Dead were H. S. Pool, 64, owner of the garage, and Johnny French, 63. Nelva Glen Harris, 18, was in fair condition in the Bay City Hospital.

The pipe was being cut up for junk. Officers theorized the workers, using an acetylene torch, had cut into an old oilwell perforating shell that contained explosives. The shells are used in testing oil wells to see whether oil has been reached.
